The National Terrazzo & Mosaic Association conducts an annual competition program, honoring the most outstanding terrazzo floor projects on the basis of quality workmanship, exceptional design and of course, unique usage of terrazzo. NTMA Honor Awards have been created to showcase talents of certain individuals within the A & D community. These professionals, who specified terrazzo for the top projects, are congratulated for their contribution to the sustainability of each building featured, the low lifecycle costs incurred by the floor... and, the enduring, exceptional and exquisite artwork of the finished floor.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, GRAINGER HALL ADDITION: A marriage of traditional and modern design, this addition to UW Madison, Grainger Hall, is a stunning melange of long-lasting building materials such as terrazzo, stone and wood, working together within a precise design program. This elegant creative mixture is characterized by a world-class combination of organic lines and geometric shapes set in beautiful patterns all throughout the facility. Half of the project was a new floor for an existing structure, the other half a new floor for a new structure. The versatility of epoxy terrazzo easily accommodated the change of substrate conditions from old to new. And, the eight-color pattern/strip design provided an exhilarating visual which incorporated all the necessary attributes of terrazzo: durability, longevity and low maintenance.
